Specification Notes

- Moos is a monoporosa white-body glazed ceramic wall tile. While the manufacturer's website lists it broadly under porcelain, the official product data classifies it as a glossy white-body wall tile intended for interior wall use only—not floors or exteriors.
- Monoporous ceramic wall tiles have high water absorption and are engineered for interior vertical surfaces. Do not specify for flooring, wet-area floors, or outdoor / freeze-thaw applications.
- The manufacturer does not publish per-collection certified test values (exact thickness, water absorption %, breaking strength, PEI wear rating, DCOF slip resistance, or frost resistance) for Moos. These figures are published at the product-family level in the manufacturer's Declaration of Performance documents and should be confirmed before installation.
